Clinical Associate Professor, Structural Engineering Civil and Urban Engineering Program NYU Abu Dhabi

The Civil and Urban Engineering program in the Engineering Division at New York University Abu Dhabi is accepting applications for a non-tenure-track Clinical Associate Professor position, to begin in September 2023. The appointed faculty member will be part of the Civil and Urban Engineering program.

The Clinical Associate Professor responsibilities will include:

- Teach both undergraduate and graduate courses, primarily in the areas of structural engineering.
- A commitment to developing creative, engaging content and course materials is required.
- Serve as the Engineering Division ABET & CAA coordinator.
- Clinical faculty are encouraged to remain active in research. Research interest experience in the following areas are preferred; 1) structure resilience and sustainability 2) risk and reliability-based structural design, and 3) computational modeling of composite materials.

The candidate must have proven experience and expertise in USA ABET assessment and accreditation as well as The Commission for Academic Accreditation (CAA) in the UAE. The faculty member is expected to teach the equivalent of 4 courses per academic year. We are committed to substantially increasing the proportion of our faculty from historically underrepresented groups as we strive to create the most intellectually diverse, inclusive, and equitable institution that we can, and especially encourage candidates from historically underrepresented groups to apply.

NYUAD has state-of-the-art research facilities in a modern 15 acre campus on Saadiyat Island in Abu Dhabi. The core research infrastructure is especially noteworthy, with extensive and exceptional range of instruments and capabilities (please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/research/facilities-and-support/core-technology-platforms.html>), as well as high performance computing facilities (please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/research/facilities-and-support/center-for-research-computing.html>). Successful candidates will receive a startup package to support their research activities.

NYUAD values inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different
