Scope:

The appointment will be for one year, with the possibility of renewal due to ongoing growth in the department.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Questions concerning the position should be referred to Dr. J. Blake Hylton, Associate Professor and Chair, Mechanical Engineering Department, j-hylton@onu.edu.

Principal Responsibilities

This position will support our broad undergraduate mechanical engineering program. Expectations include teaching of introductory, college-wide courses as well as upper-level mechanical engineering courses.

Required Skills:

Candidates from any specialty area within or adjacent to mechanical engineering will be considered. The applicant must be committed to teaching excellence in undergraduate education and must possess excellent verbal and written communication skills. Expectations include teaching of introductory, college-wide courses as well as upper-level mechanical engineering courses.

Minimum Qualifications:

An advanced degree or a degree and substantial experience in Mechanical Engineering, adjacent fields such as Materials, Aerospace, Biomedical, Robotics, or Manufacturing Engineering, or a related field such as Engineering Education (with a prior degree in mechanical engineering) is required.

College Description:

Ohio Northern University (ONU) is proud to be a place where the learning, development, and welfare of its students are the highest priorities of the institution. ONU offers an academic experience that starts with a university-wide focus on relationships, individual development, and guaranteed personal attention for our students.

The T. J. Smull College of Engineering is an undergraduate-only program that values the development of strong relationships between students, faculty, staff, and alumni. Faculty are encouraged to provide unique educational opportunities that fully develop individual students into practicing engineers and computer scientists. Our faculty members encourage students to ask questions, develop confidence in their abilities, develop an entrepreneurial mindset, and engage in high-impact learning opportunities such as undergraduate research, service learning, and engineering competition teams. Our award-
