Position description

The College of Engineering, University of California, Berkeley, seeks candidates for a tenure track or tenured (Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor) position. The College seeks candidates with expertise in the area of Aerospace Engineering. The successful candidate would conduct research and teach undergraduate courses in sustainable propulsion, materials under extreme conditions, astrodynamics, dynamics/controls of space structures, hypersonics, eVTOL infrastructure, or other areas of contemporary interest in aerospace engineering. The successful candidate would be offered the opportunity to formally affiliate with one or more of the existing academic departments in the College of Engineering, commensurate with their area of technical expertise.

At Berkeley Engineering, our faculty are critical to the University of California's mission to serve society as a center of higher learning. As part of the college's hiring, merit, and promotion practices, faculty are evaluated on their contributions to serving a diverse society and creating an inclusive campus climate for all individuals.

The College of Engineering is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual-career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths, taken time off for family reasons, or achieved excellence in careers outside academia. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit the New Senate Faculty page. The University provides reasonable accommodation to otherwise qualified academic appointees who are disabled or become disabled and need assistance to perform the essential functions of their positions. More information is available on this website.

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community dedicated to the advancement, application, and transmission of knowledge and creative endeavors through academic excellence, where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in a safe and secure environment, free of violence, harassment, discrimination, exploitation, or intimidation. Consistent with this commitment, UC Berkeley requires all applicants for Senate faculty positions to complete, sign, and upload an Authorization of Information Release form into AP Recruit as part of their application. If an applicant does not include the signed authorization, the application will be considered incomplete, and as with any incomplete application, will not receive further consideration. Although all applicants for faculty recruitments must complete the entire application, applicants will only be subject to reference checks if and when they are selected as the candidate to whom the hiring unit would like to extend a formal offer. More information is available on this website.
