Join UMass Amherst's ECE Department!

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering at the University of Massachusetts Amherst is hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in heterogeneous computing, with possible consideration for associate level based on experience. We seek candidates in the broad area of heterogeneous computing, including architectures, accelerators (GPUs, NPU, FPGAs), performance analysis, sustainable computing and related emerging fields.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering, Computer Engineering, Computer Science, or related fields by August 31, 2025. For details, visit: <https://careers.umass.edu/amherst/en-us/job/525145/assistant-professor-tt-electrical-and-computer-engineering-heterogenous-computing>

EEO/AA Policy

The University is committed to active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. The University of Massachusetts Amherst is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, we will holistically assess the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research or other work activities. We will also favorably consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to an academic career and degree.
