: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Monthly Type: 9 Month

Tenure Track: Tenure

Full Time/Part Time: Full Time

Temporary/Permanent: Permanent

Funding: General Funds

Other Conditions: The University of Hawai'i at Manoa (UHM), College of Engineering, Department of Civil, Environmental, and Construction Engineering invites applications for a full-time, general fund, tenure track, faculty position, pending position clearance and availability of funds to begin approximately August 1, 2025 or as soon as possible thereafter.

The University of Hawai'i at Manoa (UHM) campus is dedicated to becoming a Native Hawaiian Place of Learning, a place that is responsive to Native Hawaiians and reflective of Indigenous Hawai'i where all can learn, grow, connect, and heal from. UHM is also a designated Truth, Racial Healing, and Transformation Campus Center. As a Carnegie R1 Doctoral University, UHM emphasizes research and graduate-level education. We take pride in our diverse, multiethnic community, with programs that consistently rank among the most diverse in the nation (<https://manoa.hawaii.edu/campus-life/diversity>).

This position will support research and teaching in the general area of Geomatics. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated expertise in one or more of the following areas: advanced geospatial science (e.g., global navigation satellite systems (GNSS), geodesy, photogrammetry, terrestrial laser scanning, airborne or satellite LiDAR, radar altimetry, GIS, geovisualization, and geospatial analytics) with a civil engineering application(s) (e.g. natural hazards, infrastructure resilience, asset management, smart cities, transportation, hydrology, coastal, construction, and/or property surveying).

The successful candidate will have access to a dedicated surveying room, along with associated machine shop facilities. Available computer facilities are extensive, including access to the Maui High-Performance Computing Center and state-of-the-art multimedia computer instructional laboratories.

The CECE Department is dedicated to excellence in teaching and research and offers B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees. Our undergraduate program is accredited by ABET, and we currently have approximately 300 undergraduate and 65 graduate students, supported by 21 faculty members.
