The Department of Mechanical Engineering at McGill University invites applications for one tenure-track position in Mechanical Engineering, preferably at the Assistant Professor level. The Department is particularly interested in the following areas: (1) Thermal energy systems, and (2) Combustion and alternative Fuels.

The Department is committed to excellence in teaching in its undergraduate and graduate programs in Mechanical Engineering and values service contributions of its faculty members to the University, the profession and society at-large.

Candidates must have a Ph.D., preferably with a first degree in Mechanical Engineering, and a strong commitment to excellence in research and teaching. Evidence of outstanding research achievements, or research potential, is essential.

Preferred qualifications include dedication to an environment that supports diversity of population and perspectives; as our students come from a wide range of disciplines, cultures, and backgrounds, we invite candidates to address in their application their ability to teach, supervise, and mentor in this context. Membership or eligibility for membership in a Canadian professional engineering association is required.

Successful candidates will have a strong commitment to the mission of the University, through outstanding activities in the areas of research, teaching and service.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Expected Start Date:
August 1, 2025

Applications will be reviewed starting January 31, 2025, and will continue until the position is filled. Enquiries can be addressed to Luc Mongeau (facultysearch.mecheng@mcgill.ca).

Interested candidates should submit applications online at:
https://mcgill.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/McGill_Careers/details/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Professor-in-Mechanical-Engineering_JR0000061887 which include:

- Cover letter (1 page);
- Curriculum vitae including a list of publications;
- Research achievements and future plans (5 years) including research vision and a description of representative research directions (max 5 pages);

- A statement on how equity, diversity and inclusion practices are incorporated in professorial activities (1/2 page);
- Names and email addresses of three to five referees

EEO/AA Policy

McGill University is committed to equity and diversity within its community and values academic rigour and excellence. We welcome and encourage applications from racialized persons/visible minorities, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, ethnic minorities, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, as well as from all qualified candidates with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities.

At McGill, research that reflects diverse intellectual traditions, methodologies, and modes of dissemination and translation is valued and encouraged. Candidates are invited to demonstrate their research impact both within and across academic disciplines and in other sectors, such as government, communities, or industry.

McGill further recognizes and fairly considers the impact of leaves (e.g., family care or health-related) that may contribute to career interruptions or slowdowns. Candidates are encouraged to signal any leave that affected productivity, or that may have had an effect on their career path. This information will be considered to ensure the equitable assessment of the candidate's record.

McGill implements an employment equity program and encourages members of designated equity groups to self-identify. It further seeks to ensure the equitable treatment and full inclusion of persons with disabilities by striving for the implementation of universal design principles transversally, across all facets of the University community, and through accommodation policies and procedures. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application process may contact, in confidence, accessibilityrequest.hr@mcgill.ca.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
