The SDU Center for Energy Informatics invites applications for Assistant Professor positions from highly qualified and motivated individuals.

The center is a leading research hub focused on developing innovative digital solutions to support the green transition of the energy sector. Our mission is to advance the field of energy informatics through the design and application of state-of-the-art digital technologies and methodologies.

As an Assistant Professor, you will have the opportunity to engage in cutting-edge research projects, contribute to the advancement of knowledge in energy informatics, collaborate with leading researchers and industry stakeholders, and become part of a vibrant and supportive academic community.

Candidates should hold a PhD in energy informatics or related fields such as software engineering, computer science, or data science, with demonstrated experience in energy-related projects. We seek individuals with strong communication and interpersonal skills, as well as the ability to work both independently and collaboratively. A genuine passion for energy informatics and a commitment to impactful research are essential.

Applications must include a CV, two letters of recommendation, the PhD thesis, and any relevant publications.

For more information about the positions and the SDU Center for Energy Informatics, please visit <https://www.sdu.dk/en/energyinformatics>, or contact the Head of Centre, Professor Bo Nørregaard Jørgensen, at bnj@mmmi.sdu.dk.

We look forward to receiving your application and to supporting your academic growth as a researcher in energy informatics.

If you experience technical problems, please contact hcm-support@sdu.dk.

Application procedure

Applicants are advised to read the SDU information on how to apply.

Assessment of the candidates is based on the application material, and an application must include:

- Curriculum Vitae.
- 2 letters of recommendation.

Further information about The Faculty of Engineering.

The University of Southern Denmark was established to create value for and with society. Whether our contributions come in the form of excellent research, innovative solutions, education or learning, we must make a positive difference to society and contribute to a sustainable future. We do this by cultivating talents and creating the best environments for research and learning. It is therefore crucial that SDU retains, develops and recruits talent. At the same time, we need to ensure consistently high quality in all our activities – and we can only do that with the right people. The University's researchers, lecturers, students, managers and technical/administrative staff are the foundation of our success.
