Job Description

CI is committed to recruiting individuals who are dedicated to furthering inclusive excellence in our campus community. We seek to enhance our diverse University population, welcoming people from all backgrounds, to sustain an environment in which all can thrive, create, work and learn.

The Computer Science program at CI is seeking to fill a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level. As we are poised to start a new major in Mechatronics Engineering, we are especially interested in candidates in this field, or closely related areas. In particular, we encourage candidates who have experience with drones, unmanned vehicles, mobile robotics, and software engineering.
