Job Description

The Packaging Science (PS) department in RIT's College of Applied Science and Technology (CAST) is currently seeking applications from exceptional candidates for two full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions to support the Packaging Science program. Candidates for this position will be expected to teach and conduct focused research in packaging science and/or discipline based education research. The fall 2018 position begins in mid-August 2018.

Responsibilities will include teaching, scholarship, and service. Teaching will include course and laboratory development and delivery via traditional and non-traditional formats. Scholarship productivity including securing external funding and publications in a well-defined area of focus that enhances and compliments the department's strategic research foci (<https://www.rit.edu/cast/scholarship-foci-department>) is expected. Service will include contributions to the department, college and university; and maintaining a clear professional development agenda to support the department's growth.

We are seeking individuals who have the ability and interest in contributing to a community committed to Student Centeredness; Professional Development and Research; Integrity and Ethics; Respect, Diversity and Pluralism; Innovation and Flexibility; and Teamwork and Collaboration. Select to view links to RIT's core values, honor code, and diversity commitment.

RIT recognizes the need for dual career assistance within the university as a means of continuing to build an inclusive campus environment and to support the university's goals to attract and retain the highest quality candidates for full time tenure-track faculty positions. Our Dual Career Program supports this goal by providing assistance to spouses/partners of eligible newly hired full time tenure-track faculty who are relocating to the Rochester Area.

The dual career program will provide assistance to the extent possible and does not guarantee placement.

Spouses/partners of full time tenure-track faculty candidates who have received a request for an on-campus interview may make an initial confidential inquiry about the program by contacting RIT at careers@rit.edu.
