background that complements ongoing research using novel and advanced computational methods and techniques, data science, artificial intelligence, or system-level techniques. Particular interest will be given to candidates who have demonstrated capabilities to apply these methods/models in the geotechnical or transportation areas.

The position is anticipated to be filled at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor, but exceptional candidates will be given consideration at the full professor rank. The successful applicant will join a cadre of committed faculty (14 tenured and tenure track, 5 research and 3 teaching) who are engaged in high-impact education and funded research programs at a level of ~$9.8M per year. CEOE is home to the renown Davidson Laboratory and Center for Environmental Systems.

The successful applicant is expected to develop a strong externally funded, globally recognized research program in their discipline and through collaborative efforts. They should also be committed to excellence in both graduate and undergraduate education and be in a position to enhance the curriculum in their area of expertise.

Stevens Institute of Technology is a premier, private research university in Hoboken, New Jersey, overlooking the Manhattan skyline. Stevens prepares its more than 8,000 undergraduate and graduate students for an increasingly complex and technology-centric world, leveraging finance, computing, engineering and the arts to confront the most challenging problems of our time with innovative teaching and research. The university is in the top 1% nationally of colleges with the highest-paid graduates.

Stevens values diversity and seeks candidates who will contribute to a welcoming and inclusive environment for students, faculty and staff of all backgrounds. We are an NSF ADVANCE institution committed to equitable practices and policies, and strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minority candidates, veterans and individuals with disabilities.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement that includes teaching interests and philosophy on inclusive classroom practices, and contact info for at least three references. Full consideration will be given to applications received by November 15. All other submission will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled.
