integration of faith and learning as Instructor and Engineering Lab Manager. The position starts in August, 2024. Anderson University is an innovative, entrepreneurial, premier comprehensive, liberal arts institution affiliated with the South Carolina Baptist Convention.

Anderson University recognizes three paths for status in faculty employment: Annual Appointment, Professional Path, and Tenure-Track. Annual Appointed faculty are hired as Instructors focused on teaching and learning. Faculty hired in the Professional Path focus on teaching, learning and service. After six years of exemplary performance, they may promote through faculty ranks and may become eligible for multi-year contracts. Tenure-Track faculty focus on teaching and learning, service; and scholarship as well. After six years of exemplary performance, Tenure-Track faculty earn tenure and may promote through faculty ranks. All three paths are evaluated for mission fit.

Candidates should be prepared to provide leadership through management of day-to-day laboratory, as well as develop and deliver laboratory-based teaching and promote a positive student experience. This position will require teaching at least one course and serving as lab manager.

This is an on-site, in-person role. This full-time faculty position requires an earned degree in engineering or basic sciences from a regionally-accredited institution. Preference will be given to candidates with relevant work experience in laboratory processes, functions and/or management, along with experience in teaching Chemistry. All candidates must have knowledge of laboratory equipment, machining, power tools, and electronics, as well as experience developing laboratory safety protocols, and the ability to develop a laboratory management system.

To ensure full consideration, please send a letter of application, curriculum vita, statement of teaching philosophy, and an Anderson University Faculty Application to:

Ann Stoddard, Administrative Assistant, College of Engineering / Anderson University / 316 Boulevard / Anderson, SC 29621

Electronic submissions are preferred and should be sent by email to coenjobs@andersonuniversity.edu
